DETAILED ACTION

This action is in response to the communication filed on 11/3/06.

Claims 1 – 13 are pending.

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 11/3/06 has been entered.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 6/27/06 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicant argues primarily that:

1 (i) Applicants continue to traverse the rejection under 35 USC §102(e) over US
2 patent 6,643,701 to Aziz et al. ("Aziz"), the rejection under 35 USC §103(a) over Aziz in
3 view of "Davis" (U.S. Patent No. 6,367,009 to Davis et al.), and the rejection under 35
4 USC §103(a) over the Aziz-Davis combination in view of "Sparks" (U.S. Patent No.
5 6,167,382 to Sparks et al.). The traversals of the rejections of the previous Office Action
6 and the arguments presented in response to those rejections, as set forth in the 7 Amendment dated June 21, 2006, are maintained and incorporated by reference in this
8 response.

10 In response, the examiner respectfully directs that applicant's attention to the 11 Final Office Action (9/7/06) for the response to these arguments.

14 The claim rejections under 35 USC §102(e) and 35 USC §103(a) set forth within 15 the Final Office Action (9/7/06) are maintained. Furthermore, in response to the 16 applicant's request for continued examination, the examiner finds additional Prior Art to 17 be pertinent and applies the following rejections.

18
19 Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

20
21 The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all
22 obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

Art Unit: 2137

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 1 – 13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over

Nguyen et al. (Nguyen), "System, Method, and Article of Manufacture for a

Gateways System Architecture with System Administration Information

Accessible from a Browser", U.S. Patent 5,931,917 in view of Davis et al. (Davis),

U.S. Patent 6,367,009.

Regarding claim 1, Nguyen discloses:

generating at the gateway module respective first session identifiers upon receipt of initial requests from the communication devices (63:32-34,38-40) at the gateway module and transmitting the first session identifiers to the application program (fig. 20b, 20c; 65:28-48); associating the first session identifiers with corresponding second session identifiers from the application program at the gateway module (19:4-9; 20:10-22).

wherein respective connections are established between the communications devices and the application program (fig. 22).

and in response to each subsequent communication from each device to the application program via the connection between the device and the application program while the connection is established, transmitting from the gateway module to the application program the second session identifier that is associated with the first session identifier of the devices of the subsequent communication (19:4-9; 20:10-22).

Art Unit: 2137

1 Regarding claim 1, the examiner notes that Nguyen does not explicitly state that
2 communication devices may be described as mobile. However, Nguyen makes clear
3 that a user may employ any computing device from any location in the world for the 4 purpose of conducting commercial transactions (63:32-38).

5 Davis discloses that it was well known in the art for users to employ mobile
6 computing devices to conduct commercial transactions (1:48-66; 8:44-67). It would
7 have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to recognize the teachings of Davis
8 for mobile computing devices within the teachings of Nguyen for any computing device.
9 This would have been obvious because one of ordinary skill in the art would have been
10 motivated to employ known and useful methods of prior art.

11
12 Regarding claim 2, the combination discloses:
13 receiving requests of a first type from the mobile devices at the gateway module
14 and transferring the first type requests to an authentication module that manages user
15 authentication; and when a user at a mobile device has not logged-in to the 16 authentication module, transmitting a log-in prompt from the authentication module to 17 the mobile device in response to a request of the first type from the mobile device (figs.
18 28, 29, 31).

19
20 Regarding claim 3, the combination discloses:

1 generating at the authentication module respective authentication identifiers for
2 the first session identifiers and associating the authentication identifiers with
3 corresponding first session identifiers (88:24-44).

5 Regarding claim 4, it is the apparatus implementing the method of claim 1, and it
6 is rejected, at least, the same reasons.

8 Regarding claim 5, it is rejected, at least, for the same reasons as claim 1, and 9 furthermore, because the combination discloses the use of wireless communications
10 between system elements (Davis, 1:48-66; 8:44-67).

11
12 Regarding claim 6, the combination discloses:
13 receiving checkout requests from the wireless communication devices at the 14 gateway module and transferring the checkout requests to a wallet module that 15 manages user authentication (Nguyen, fig. 28:2830, 2850-2882);

16 when a user at a wireless communications device has logged-in to the wallet
17 module, transmitting payment options from the wallet module to the wireless
18 communications device in response to a checkout request from the wireless
19 communications device (Nguyen, fig. 27:2708,2704);

20 when a user at a wireless communications device has not logged-in to the wallet
21 module, transmitting a log-in prompt from the wallet module to the wireless

Art Unit: 2137

1 communications device in response to a checkout request from the wireless
2 communications device (Nguyen, fig. 31).

4 Regarding claims 6 and 7, they are rejected, at least, for the same reasons as 5 claims 2 and 3.

7 Regarding claim 8, the combination discloses:
8 in response to a payment request from a wireless communications device,
9 transmitting the payment request from the gateway module to the merchant application
10 (Nguyen, fig. 3, 28);

11 disassociating the wireless session identifier from the corresponding merchant
12 session identifier (66:25-30),

13 generating a new wireless session identifier for the wireless communications
14 device when another initial request is received from the wireless communications device
15 (see the above claims for repeating the disclosed process).

16
17 Regarding claim 9, the combination discloses:
18 clearing inactive entries from the wallet session identifier table (Nguyen, 66:25- 19 30, 53-60).

Regarding claim 10, it is rejected, at least, for the same reasons as claims 1 and 5.

Regarding claims 11 – 13, they are system implementing the method of claims 1 – 3, and they are rejected, at least, for the same reasons.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to
